

coolmompicks™
we find it, you flaunt it.

saturday

15
march

Crib Bedding For Those Not Getting a Big Refund Next Month

People are always asking us for cheap ways to decorate the nursery. Um...hand-me-downs?

The truth is, most inexpensive nursery bedding looks and feels inexpensive. But once in a while, we find something with a boutique feel at big box store prices, like the new nursery collection from MiGI. Four different themes offer up mixy-matchy options in everything from sheets and blankets to mobiles and room accessories.

The MiGI Pinwheel collection in particular has a fun, retro-modern feel and it's hard to beat the $179 price tag for a six-piece cotton crib set. And for just 25 bucks, the Splash collection includes a sweet little cotton blanket in this season's requisite argyle print.

But please, no matter how much you're tempted, don't buy every single piece in a collection. You'll scare us. -Liz