

The Stylish Child

Monday, April 23, 2007

MiGi: Fun and Funky Crib Bedding at Affordable Prices

Many expectant moms find themselves gazing at those amazing nurseries in the baby magazines and thinking "I wish I could afford that." The gorgeous new bedding line by Migi flawlessly combines magazine ready style with real-life mom prices.

Launched last year, MiGi's first collection "Sweet" which features a subtle shades of pinks, reds, and greens quickly became a favorite amongst celebrity moms. Fans of the Sweet collection include Brooke Shields, Jennifer Garner, Jennie Garth, and Maggie Gyllenhaal.

Now the minds behind the popular girls' collection have turned their creative juices to designing a collection for the boys. Their latest addition is the "Splash" collection comprised of a collection of underwater designs in shades of blues and greens. Splash has already garnered its own fans in Heidi Klum, Tori Spelling, and Jaime Pressley.

The best part of the MiGi collection is that its designed for every mom that wants that designer look for her nursery on a budget. Available at Target, the six-piece crib sets retail for $179.99 with coordinating accessories ranging from $14.99

- $39.99.

My favorite pieces in the two collections are the Splash harlequin knit blanket and the Sweet crochet blanket which have the style of handcrafted items without the time it takes to make a handmade treasure.

Posted by Celebrity Moms at 9:11 AM

All About Me

Name: Celebrity Moms

View my complete profile

Please contact me at Emma@celebrity-moms.com if you would like to submit a product for a future article.